

Name: _____ Date: _____

Many verbs describe things that happen. These are called action verbs.

Examples:

David ran for the exit.

The dog awoke when the door opened.

To find action verbs, look for words that tell what something or someone is doing, will do, or has done.

Write the action verb from each sentence.

(1) I will read the book. _____

(2) The boys sat at the table.

(3) The soup boils in the big iron pot.

(4) The pair of monkeys laugh at the children. _____

(5) The dog barked at the chubby mailman. _____

(6) Sit down over there. _____

(7) The sun filled the room with warmth.

(8) A fish swims in the pond.

(9) The elephant trampled all over the plants. _____

(10) My mom watered the plants yesterday. _____

(11) The pizza cooks slowly in the brick oven. _____

(12) We leave for California tomorrow.

(13) An old man searches for buried coins on the beach. _____

(14) The dog sleeps all day. _____

Action Verbs

ANSWER KEY

Many verbs describe things that happen. These are called action verbs.

Examples:

David ran for the exit.

The dog awoke when the door opened.

To find action verbs, look for words that tell what something or someone is doing, will do, or has done.

Write the action verb from each sentence.

(1) I will read the book. read

(2) The boys sat at the table.
sat

(3) The soup boils in the big iron pot.
boils

(4) The pair of monkeys laugh at the children. laugh

(5) The dog barked at the chubby mailman. barked

(6) Sit down over there. Sit

(7) The sun filled the room with warmth.
filled

(8) A fish swims in the pond.
swims

(9) The elephant trampled all over the plants. trampled

(10) My mom watered the plants yesterday. watered

(11) The pizza cooks slowly in the brick oven. cooks

(12) We leave for California tomorrow.
leave

(13) An old man searches for buried coins on the beach. searches

(14) The dog sleeps all day. sleeps